Aggregate population.........50,155,783 Cyclone Phenomena.

Dr. Andries, of the Wilhelmshaven Observatory, has recently revived in an Austrian meteorological journal the theory of cyclones which refers their origin and translation to the upper atmospheric currents. This important deduction, though not original with M. Faye, of France, was forcibly put forth by the latter scientist in 1877, who, in presenting Dr. Andries' views to the Paris Academy of Sciences, on the 14th ult., strongly sustains the former's con-clusions. These are, in brief, that cyclones, tornadoes and trombes are the same mechanical phenomena, differing only in dimensions, and that the force to which they are indebted for their pro-pagation resides in the powerful currents which hold sway above the earth. In sustaining these views M. Faye argues from the records of American storms and tornadoes that as their ra-pidity of translation (often "that of an express train") is so great their progressive motion in regular tracks can not be due to mere difference of barometric pressure. These storms rush over the sea or the continent, crushing houses and rooting up trees in the twinkling of an eye with the enormous velocities of the aerial currents encountered by aeronauts at high levels-velocities which cloud observations prove some-times reach one hundred and twenty miles an hour. There is certainly good reason for the French investigator's conclusion that "the storm is, as our machines, a simple organ for the transmission of force—that is, a gigantic instru-ment which receives in the upper atmosphere the vis viva in its vast funnel."
M. Faye says:—"The public has learned that storms are not generated here or there; that they come to us from America on the day named, and that they are not transient disturbances, but the display of a grand law of terrestrial mechanics, as fixed as the laws of celestial mechanics." The origin of cyclones is a confessed mystery with the bulk of weather students. But if the suggestions which this scientist and Dr. Andries make lead meteorologists to a practical study of the cloud phenomena and other indications of the high aerial strata in-stead of confining their observations to the comparatively calm lower strata, they would be in a position to give much more timely and accurate storm warnings and weather forecasts than are now possible." We live at the very bottom of the aerial ocean, but in order to know the lower air currents which affect us it is as necessary to trace and track the upper currents as it is to gauge the Gulf Stream in order to study the force and movement of the polar stream which underruns it on the floor of the Atlantic .- N. Y. Herald.

-The bad cow-boy from Bitter Creek was on the Comstock last night. He went into the Gem saloon and thus described himself: "I'm a race-horse in an advance and a tortoise in retreat! When you hear my voice above the larvae were working in a carpet, they racket you kin begin to measure off land for a graveyard!" About this time the "race-horse" found himself doubled up in a corner, and as he sadly wiped the dripping blood from his nose and bulging upper lip he exclaimed: "I didn't mean to cast no slurs onto this place, for here I know the land's measured off and the graveyard established." -Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise.

HOME AND FARM.

-To Clean Hair Brushes: Dip them in strong soda water and rinse in cold water, and dry in the sun .- The House-

-The Canadian Farmer warns beekeepers against toads. The reptiles station themselves near the hives and breakfast on the bees.

-Sugar Snaps: One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, two eggs, ene tea-spoonful of soda, one tablespoonful of ginger, and flour to roll.

-To get rid of the objectionable odor of paint in a chamber or a living-room, slice a few onions and put them in a pail of water in the center of the room; close the doors, leave the windows open a little, and in a few hours the disagreeable smell will have almost gone. - Iowa State Register.

-A. B. Howard, of Massachusetts, says: "A friend of ours, who grows cabbages extensively for market, has found that saltpeter dissolved at the rate of one and a half to two ounces to a gallon of water, and applied with a sprinkler, will completely banish the European cabbage-worm. It has proved not only a sure cure for this nuisance, but a special fertilizer in stimulating an increased growth of plant.

-A complaint comes to us of the water of a well being discolored and bad tasting, and it is asked if it will injure cream, butter and other articles suspended there. We answer no, not if in perfectly tight vessels. But is not the trouble caused by suspending such arti-cles in the water of a well originally good? It takes but very little milk or cream to spoil the water of a well. They should never be suspended in the water. but over it, and only in perfectly tight and clean vessels .- Prairie Farmer.

-Brown Bread: One coffee-cup of boiling water turned on to one quart of graham flour, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of lard, and one-half cup of molasses: then add one pint of light bread sponge; when mixed thoroughly it should be about as thick as for a johnnycake, it should be no thicker than can be stirred with a spoon. Put it into a two quart basin and let it rise until the basin is about full, and bake an hour. I have used this recipe for six years and always have good bread .- The Household.

-The Farm Journal talks in this way about the good times upon which the farmer has fallen: This will be a good to 56 pounds.—N. Y. Sun. year for farmers; that is, prices of their products will be high. So of next year and probably the next. Times will be good until the crash comes. The sun shines now, farmers; make hay. Be prudent, be economical, keep down ex-penses, buy little and sell all you can. Make every acre do its work, and clear off that mortgage. Your time has now come; this is your inning, and if you do not make your books balance on the right side of the ledger by the time the bottom again drops out it will be your own fault, not ours.

-Kicking Cows: I tied the cow up by the head (not legs), procured a good switch (not club) and proceeded to milk, and for every kick I returned one good blow were sufficient, and ever after the cow was as gentle as need be. Three important points are to be observed in the above statement:-1. Uniform kindness. 2. Never strike a cow for kicking when loose in the yard, or she will learn to run from you. 3. Only one blow for each kick.—Rural New Yorker.

Carpet Beetles.

The carpet-beetle is one of the worst, most destructive, and difficult to overcome of all household insects. It was introduced into the United States from Europe, and is sometimes miscalled the "Buffalo moth," probably from the fact, one author claims, it was first noticed as destructive in this country at Buffalo, N. Y. It has not yet, that we are aware of, made its appearance in Iowa, but is likely at any time to become an unwelcome and troublesome visitant.

It is claimed (and we are thankful to say we have not yet come into practical personal contact with this beetle, and that our knowledge of it is gained from others) "that it has been known to cut a carpet into strips from end to end as clean and straight as if it had been cut by a sharp knife or seissors." It also destroys furs, woolen clothes, leather, dried plants and preserved animals. It does all the damage in the larva or worm state. The larva is described as being nearly one quarter of an inch long, with six legs, and running nimbly. If turned apon its back it will spring upward to regain its feet just like the big black brownish color, appearing as if branded in two shades, the darkest being the central portion of each ring." The beetle is about one-twelfth of an inch long, black marked with red and white, and has been found to live upon the pollen of the spiraea blossoms. The female beetles enter the house, deposit their eggs along the edges of the carpets or other woolen goods, although pos-sessing a partiality for carpets. The larvæ or worms hatch, and nature forming the pupe within their larval skins, from which the beetles emerge and leave the house, the females only re-entering. In some parts of the country it has become so troublesome that carpets have had to be dispensed with and mattings used in their place. Most of the common remedies are ineffectual, but it is said that cotton, saturated with benzine or kerosene, stuffed into the joinings of floors and crevices beneath base boards during the winter months, will destroy them. Benzine is the more preferable to use, because it will not soil the carpets; but it is so extremely inflammable that its use is dangerous. Boiling hot water is effectual. It seems to us, if the could be steamed to death by wetting a cloth, laying it on the carpet and then ironing with a hot iron, in the same manner as plaitings are pressed .-

Alice B. Walton, in Iowa State Register. -A man and wife in St. Lawrence County, N. Y., over seventy years old, were recently down with the whoopingcough, which they caught from their grandchildren.

Tremors of the Earth.

The London Times publishes a synopsis of some papers on the "tremors of the earth," by the committee appointed to measure the lunar disturbance of gravity, and by Mr. G. Darwin, which will continue to be the most prominent contains some statements new to the public. It is considered proved by the men of science engaged that the crust of the earth bends under the weights im-posed on it, till "when the barometer rises an inch over a land area like that of Australia, the increased load of air sinks the entire continent two or three inches below the normal level." The land actually sinks and rises under the pressure of the mass of water thrown upon it by the tides, the maximum of rise and fall on the Atlantic seaboard reaching five inches. This effect is felt at the bottom of the deepest mine, and may reach for an unknown distance. It follows that the crust of the earth must be of exceeding tenacity, exceeding as a minimum that of granite; and its swayings may be the causes of phe-nomena hitherto quite unexplained, as, for example, the relation between storm and earthquake. So universal, frequent, and unavoidable are these disturbances that the inquiry into the lunar disturbance of gravity has been given up. No depth can be found at which a recording instrument can be placed so as to escape their effect. The round earth pants, in fact, like a breathing being, under the changes always going on above her.

-Some experiments have been made at Salem, Mass., to ascertain the tractive force requisite to move street-cars and vehicles on a macadamized road. The apparatus used consisted of an inclined plane, at the upper end of which was an iron wheel, over which passed a rope. A loaded box-car, weighing, with its contents, 12,820 pounds, was drawn up the grade by a weight of 970 pounds suspended at the other end of the rope. A smaller car, weighing when empty 2,730 pounds, was occupied by fourteen persons, and drawn up by 339 pounds, and when unoccupied by 176 pounds. An ordinary load of sand on a macadamized road was started by 514 pounds, and an empty hack, weighing 1,550 pounds, by 196 pounds; the same back with four passengers inside required 230 pounds to move it. On a level road, the load of sand was started by 240 pounds, while the large box-car yielded

-There was an insurance of £1,000 on the life of Lamson, the American murderer hanged in London, written by the Scottish Widows' Fund Assurance Office. Immediately before Lamson's conviction the policy was assigned absolutely to Mr. A. W. Mills, the solicitor by whom he had been so zealously defended, to cover the balance of the costs in the defense. On the strength of a decision in the House of Lords, payment could have been refused, but the money was paid.

Speaking of the almost exclusive use of orange blossoms for bridal occasmart blow with the switch on the offendwe should not be permitted to utilize for that time. At the next milking only three or four blows were required, and at the third milking one kick and one the should not be permitted to utilize on less commonplace occasions these sweet and beautiful flowers, nor why they should be exclusively set apart for they should be exclusively set apart for the use of women on that special and particular occasion, which is not expect-ed and rarely desired to come more than once in a lifetime.

> -A police lieutenant in Philadelphia startled the members of a wall-paper firm, recently with the information that for ten years they had been systematically robbed by various employees, at least $20,000 having been traced out. The ring had regular customers, and the engineer opened the warehouse at 5 o'clock each morning to allow them to make their selections .- Chicago Times.

> -On the great Dakota farms "the plowman rides upon a sulky plow; the grain is sown with a drill or a broadcaster; the reaping-machines bind the sheaves as they move over the ground, and the threshers do their work in the fields by portable steam engines that burn the straw for fuel." Nothing like doing things by wholesale .- Chicago Tribune.

-The harvests of New Zealand and Australia are gathered in December and January. People with plenty of money and time to travel can enjoy perpetual spring, summer or winter in this world by following the seasons in their rounds. -Country Gentleman.

A Fisher Caught. "On my last trip to the States," said Mr. Arthur Fisher, of this paper, "I caught a very bad cold which settled into a severe case of rheumatism. I did not know what to do for it, so I resolved to purchase St. Jacobs Oil for trial. Happy thought. I began applying the Oil, and in two weeks was as well as ever. -Toronto (Canada) Globe

One of the old veterans of Wall street was the other day giving some fatherly advice to one of his sons about to be married, and in closing his sermon he said: "Directly after the ceremony there will be a banquet, of course. When your wife turns over her plate she will find a check for $50,000 under it." "Do you think so?" "Oh, I know it. That's the prevailing style nowadays. The check will be passed around and finally given to you to pocket." "And next day I will draw the money on it?" "Oh, no, you won't." "Why not?" "Because there won't be any to draw. Don't make a dolt of yourself by rushing to the bank." "But I thought—" "No matter what you thought. Save the check to frame and hang up. When I was married thirty years ago my wife found one under her plate. I've got it yet. I thought too much of her father to mortify his feelings and I know he has always respected me for it. That's all, ONE of the old veterans of Wall street was has always respected me for it. That's all, my son. If you run short on your bridal tour you can send a telegram to me."—Detroit Free Press.

A BOY paid his first visit to one of the pub-lic schools the other day as a scholar, and as he came home at night his mother inquired of him: "Well, Henry, how do you like going to school?" "Bully!" he replied, in an excited voice; "I saw four boys licked, one girl get her ear pulled, and a great big scholar burn his elbow on the stove. A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

JAMES OTIS, OLIVER OPTIC.

The leading scientists, clergymen and educators are engaged upon Golden Days. Its illustrations are profuse and in the highest style of art.

Rev. D. P. Klöder, D. D., will give each week a lucid and scholarly exposition of the international Sunday-school Lesson of the succeeding week.

Puszledorn will perplex and delight the ingentorable boys and girls, as it has in the past.

The Letter Box will continue to dispense useful information, and to answer the queries and publish the Notices of Exchange of our young friends.

In short, Golden Days will stop at no expense to deserve, in a higher degree than ever before, the title that the discriminating public have bestowed upon it—that of the "Prince of Juvenilea." SUBSCRIPTION RATES, EITHER POR
